

A LONG WAY TO SCHOOL, from Hanover, Germany, to Lincoln-Way high on an Illinois prairie near New Lenox, but Hannah made it with days to spare. Hannah Heiman, 16, an exchange student from Germany, arrived at the school last Friday and if the prospect of an interview with one of the school officials made her nervous the feeling disappeared after she met Assistant Principal Earl Dieken, who quickly put her at ease and when this picture was taken the two were soon chatting away without recourse to Sprechen sie Deutsch? and Sprechen sie English? Hannah, it should be stated, speaks English with a slight English accent, according to the reporter who interviewed her. The reporter, by the way, speaks English with a slight Scots accent.

Exchange Student

German Girl to Enter Lincoln-Way

By ANNE RODGER

Looking like any American teenager, Hanna Heymann of Hanover, Germany, a stranger in a strange land, will enter Lincoln-Way High school in New Lenox, in September.

A foreign exchange student, Hanna arrived in New York City last Wednesday with 800 other foreign exchange students, 160 from Germany. The group arrived by steamship from Italy, Austria, Switzerland, France, Germany, Norway, Sweden, Finland, Denmark, Belgium, and the Union of South Africa. They will attend American high schools for one year, under the American Field Service program.

Hanna has large brown eyes and long brown hair, which she wore in a pony tail when she registered at Lincoln-Way high school Friday. A little overwhelmed and tired from the long journey from New York by bus, she had spent her first night in an American home.

The young German student will not feel a stranger very long. As a guest of the Henry Blomquist family of New Lenox, she has already become one of the family. The eldest of the Blomquist children, 16-year old vivacious Sue, Joni, 12, and Eric, 7 are delighted to have another "sister" for a year. Eric, who accompanied his mother and sister Sue to the school when Hanna registered, was fondling what appeared to be a live kitten while he waited, but which turned out to be a puppet cat which Hanna had brought him from Germany.

Stepping into the hot torrid days of August in the middle west, Hanna explained the weather was quite similar to Germany, where the mean summer temperature is 28, but sometimes reaches a high of 36. This aroused a little skepticism on the part of her listeners, until dawn broke and it was realized she was speaking in terms of degrees centigrade, not fahrenheit.

One requisite for participating in the exchange program is that the student must speak fluent English. By the time Hanna returns to Germany, her English vocabulary will be greatly enlarged, with probably some words she will not find in her dictionary.

This happened her first day with the Blomquists when she and Sue discussed dating. Sue mentioned her "heart throb". Hanna said nothing, but admitted later she could not find it in the dictionary. She found the words separately, but was mystified until Sue further explained what she meant.

In Germany, Hanna explained, the law requires students must have eight years of elementary schooling. The Grundschule, the equivalent of the American elementary school, is for a period of only four years. Pupils may then either enter middle school or high school.

Hanna plans to go to college and her ambition is to be a journalist.

The German teenager was "very happy" when advised she was one of 12 students from the Hanover area chosen to attend an American high school, from among 150 who applied.

Hanna was one of the 165 foreign students who arrived in Chicago last Thursday from New York.

The annual exchange of students is sponsored by the AFS, an organization formed to promote international understanding. Launched in 1947, 50 foreign students attended American high schools the first year. The total this year will be 1500.

Enjoying a similar experience as the young German student, is Kay Gersch, a student at Lincoln-Way, now spending the summer in Germany under the AFS program.

Mokena Explorers Troop Takes Part in Carrying Light to Pan-Am Games

Three Mokena Boy Scouts, members of Explorer Troop 40, were among the Scouts who carried the Friendship Torch along the final stages of its 1,464 mile journey from the Mexico U. S. border at Laredo, Texas to Soldiers' Field where its flame will light the opening of the Pan-American Games today.

The torch, which was designed at the Argonne Laboratory near Lemont, and equipped with an atomic gadget to light the flame, has been carried across the country by relays of Scouts.

Since one of the requisites for the task is that a boy must be at least 14 years old, a large number of youngsters are Explorers.

Approximately 3,000 boys have brought the torch from south of the Border to the Pan American games on the Chicago Lake front.

Scouts from Rainbow Council picked up the torch at the junction of U. S. 66 and Route 47 at Dwight Monday. From there it was brought into Will county and remained that night at Plainfield. It was on display on the village green there from 8 to 10 o'clock.

The Mokena contingent carried the torch two miles, beginning at a point about a mile north of U. S. 52, which is at Troy about six miles west of Joliet, and continuing toward Plainfield. The trio was transported to their stations by Fred Lehmann, a member of the Mokena Lions club. (The Lions sponsored the Explorer post at Mokena and so were asked to convey the boys to their posts.)

Robert Munch, Daniel Williams, and Ronald Tomas and Raymond Lorenz were each to run half a mile but Lorenz did not appear so Munch ran the first and last half miles of the distance allotted to the Mokena Scouts. They began their relay about 6 o'clock Monday evening. Mokena was the only community in the eastern part of Will county invited to supply Scouts for the relay.

The lads used the standard Scout pace, 50 paces at a run,

Students who have already enrolled must report to school on any day from yesterday, Aug. 26, thru noon on Friday, Sept. 4, to secure class assignments, pay fees, be issued textbooks and secure locker space. The following schedule indicates when students may call at the school to complete these necessary pre-school arrangements:

All members of the Carl Sandburg high school teaching staff will report for duty next Wednesday, Sept. 2. Wednesday, Thursday and Friday next week, teachers will participate in a pre-school workshop under the direction of William O. Fisher, supt. The operation of the school, rules and regulations, preparations for the first day of school and discussion on the improvement of the educational program will be discussed during this three day pre-school workshop. Football practice will begin for the fall season on Monday morning, Aug. 31. It is expected that a squad of 125 boys will answer the call of Coaches Devine and practice.

The Scouts who carried the torch will receive badges commemorating the event.

Association to Start Classes For EMH Pupils

The Southwest Cook County Cooperative Association for Special Education, with offices at 17248 67th avenue, Tinley Park, is in its second month of active formation. In addition to Stanley B. Singer, director, the Association has been successful in securing the services of Mrs. Beatrice B. Altholz and Mrs. Marie McPherson to teach classes of educable mentally handicapped children.

Although in general practice newly formed special education programs do not expect to form classes during the first year, the nature of the preliminary work done by the co-operating superintendents was such that the Association could open a total of five classes if teachers were available. The director is presently utilizing every available means to locate qualified teachers of EMH classes.

The Association's plans for the future include classes for the trainable mentally handicapped, sight saving and blind deaf and hard of hearing, physically handicapped, and multiple handicapped. They will also offer services of speech correctionists, school social workers and teachers of homebound students.

Mrs. Ekberg joins with the Salvation Army in expressing deep appreciation for the generous response of the volunteer taggers and contributors.

The total contributions were $157,767.17. Tagging in the suburbs was organized by Mrs. G. Reed Basinger of Oak Park and Mrs. Earl Ehrhardt of Elmhurst.

The drive was held throughout Chicago and 142 suburbs.

Neatest Farms

Tinley Entry Gets a High Mark

Milk for America's tables and kitchens comes from neat trim farms. This fact was high lighted last weekend by announcement that a winner has been named in the 1959 "Neat Farm Contest" conducted again this year by District 13 of Pure Milk Association.

Edwin Meyer, who operates a 440 acre farm near Joliet has won this year's contest, with runnersup being Leo Stanford, Rt. 1, Millington, second; and Harry Heath, Rt. 1, Waterman, third.

Honorable mention was given the neat farm of Oakley Myers, Rt. 1, Hinckley; Wayne F. Torman, Rt. 2, Earlville; Leo J. Steffes, Rt. 2, Minooka; Harold Stellwagen, Rt. 2, Tinley Park; and Alton Thomson, Rt. 1, Peotone.

Judging of the beautiful farms was done by two directors of Pure Milk Association, Dist. 14 Director Clarence Meyer Peotone, and Dist. 5 Director Walter Kirschner, Rt. 1, Garden Prairie. District 13 Director Albert Krusemark, of Frankfort, invited his fellow directors to judge the project.

Awards to the winners and honorable mention recipients were made possible through cooperation of dairies in the district.

Judging of the farms was done strictly on the neatness of the dairy farm, regardless of the financial outlay, according to Howard Klett, Rt. 3, Joliet, who originated the project to highlight the fact that milk for the nation is produced from bright, "neat as a pin" farms.

Scoring points included general appearance of the farm and farm buildings; conditions of the dairy utensils, milk house and equipment; condition of the dairy barn and herd; and condition of all other buildings on the farm, including the farm home.

The contest was conducted as a project of the District 13 public relations and promotion committee, including Richard Erickson, Mokena, chairman; Milton Bettenhausen, Tinley Park; Leonard Bols, Rt. 2, Morris; David Wandless, Elwood; and Edwin Meyer, Rt. 1 Joliet. The district covers parts of 10 Illinois counties.

Mokena Schools

Board Adds 2 Teachers to Staff

When the Mokena grade schools open Sept. 8 there will be 17 members on the teaching staff, including the superintendent, Mrs. Elizabeth Cappel. Last year the staff numbered 15.

There are 12 rooms available in the two schools, Willow Crest and Carpenter street and a six room addition to Willow Crest will be ready by mid-year, it was believed.

Supt. Cappel reminds parents that first and fifth grade pupils must have had physical examinations by their physicians prior to opening of school and bring evidence of same with them the first day.

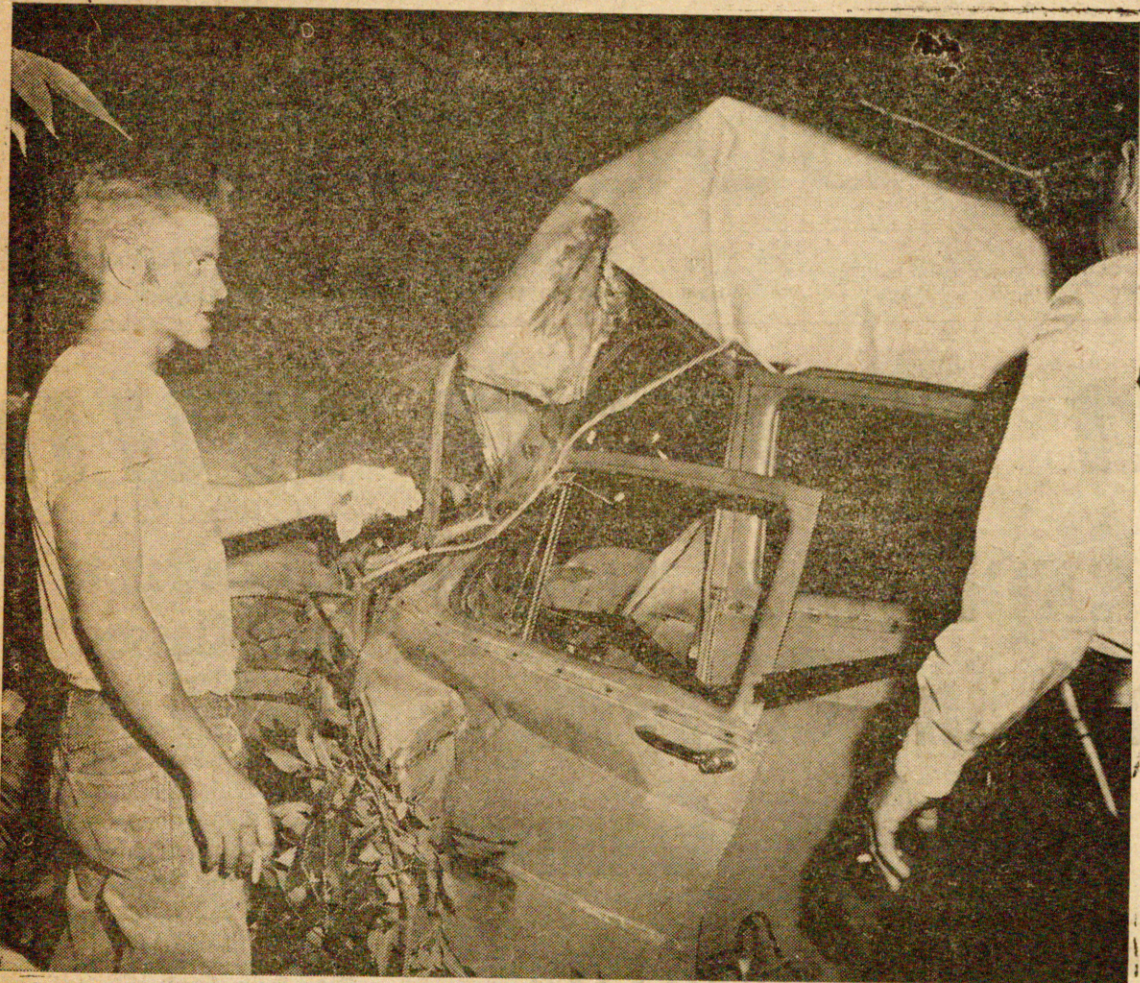

The two new teachers are Coleman Rogers, who will serve in the seventh grade and Mrs. Emilie Swartz, who will teach in the second and third grades. Both are from the East. Mr. Coleman is from South Portland, Me. and has a BA degree from Eastern Nazarene college at Boston and will be-

DRIVER ESCAPES WITH MINOR INJURIES
Owen Bosard, 21, of 192nd st., Sunny Acres, was fortunate in that he was able to walk away after an accident around 1 a.m. Tuesday. He told police who investigated the accident that he was returning home from work and well asleep. Bosard was driving north on Wolf road and was near 195th when his car crossed the road to the west and crashed into a tree. The car was practically demolished. This is Bosard in the picture and the policeman is Joseph Heim of the Mokena force. Bosard's license has been suspended but he has permission to drive back and forth to work. (Marvin Smith photo)

Few People Win Arguments With Police, Umpires

Roger Barch, of Glenell Heights which is just west of Mokena off Francis road, has learned at first hand that a man is usually better off to pay a traffic fine than to fight the case. It's cheaper, anyway. Barch was arrested Aug. 6 by Mokena Police Officer Joseph Heim, on a charge of running a stop sign at Wolf road and Front street. Barch elected to fight the case and asked Justice of the Peace August Werner to summon a jury and set a date for a hearing.

The hearing was held in the Mokena village hall last Thursday night before a jury made up of two women and four men, Leona J. Muehler, Cecilia Newton, Arthur O. Omland, John T. C. Williams, James L. Murphy and W. K. Hall. Barch acted as his own attorney. He testified that he stopped. Officer Heim testified that Barch bounced a bit when he came to Wolf road, but didn't stop. Instead he kept along at a brisk pace, the witness said. Marvin Smith, police photographer, who was riding with Heim at the time, gave similar testimony.

At one point Barch was calling upon the acting police magistrate to take the witness stand but Village Attorney Raymond Hooehlan pointed out that calling presiding judges as witnesses simply wasn't done.

The jury found Barch guilty and fixed his penalty at a fine of $7 plus $20 costs. Had he pleaded guilty, it was pointed out, the fine would have been $6 and the costs $4, or a net savings of $17.

Mokena Youth Best Horseman At State Fair

Kurt Gerdel, 13, an 8th grade pupil in the Mokena public schools, showed his horse, "Revenue Bill" in the Junior Horseman competition at the Illinois state fair and won first place.

There were 26 youngsters in the competition so taking first place will aid him materially in points for all state honors. Last year he placed third in points for the state championship. Last year he appeared in some 20 shows but so far this season he has been in approximately a dozen.

At the state fair the junior horsemen and their mounts were judged on a combination of points—walk, trot, canter, backing up mounting and dismounting, posture of rider and position and control of hand, arms and legs.

Kurt began riding when he was six years old. He belongs to the 4-H Bronc Busters club. He acquired his new horse about five months ago. Revenue Bill stands 15 hands.

LIONS SCRAP DRIVE

The Mokena Lions club will make its regular monthly collection of paper and scrap tonight. Persons are asked to have such material placed at the curb line by 7 o'clock, which is the time for the pickup crews to start their rounds.

Raymond Heald Succumbs at 70

Raymond Heald, 70, Beacon ave., Orland Park, where he had lived for half a century, died Tuesday Aug. 25, at Silver Cross hospital, Joliet, following a brief illness. He had been in the hospital about a week.

Mr. Heald was employed in the Wabash railroad shops as a car repairman for 38 years. He retired in January of this year.

His wife, the former Laura Uthe, died Aug. 13, 1950. The couple wed June 24, 1914.

There are no immediate survivors.

Removal was to the Schmaedeke funeral home, 143rd and U. S. 6, Orland Park, where friends may call today between 2 and 5 and 7 and 10 o'clock. Funeral services will be held at the Orland Park Methodist church at 2 o'clock tomorrow (Friday) with the Rev. Robert Plastow officiating. Burial will be in Orland Memorial cemetery.

Orland Firm Is Involved in Zoning Change

The Will County zoning board of appeals has decided to make a further study of a change sought for an Orland Park firm before making a recommendation to the board of supervisors.

Barney Welter, supervisor of Homer township, had asked for a rezoning of a tract on 143rd street, west of Bell road, and make it light industrial for use by a cabinet manufacturing shop now doing business at Orland Park.

The appeal board did make recommendations regarding other requests in the area, however, and the supervisors concurred.

Harry E. Anderson, post, VFW, at New Lenox, which plans to build a clubhouse on the north side of the Lincoln highway and west of the village limits, has been granted a B-2 rating which permits it to sell liquor.

Walter Ruthenbeck can classify the south 75 feet of his property at the Walton motel on the south side of U. S. 30 as B-1.

Mokenan Suffers Foot Injury in Boating Accident

Mayor James Mar'i of Mokena is hobbling about his duties this week as a result of an accident while boating at Bass Lake in Indiana last Sunday.

A bolt worked loose in the floor of his boat and he didn't notice it when making a turn, and he jammed his foot against it inflicting a deep laceration. He was removed to a hospital at Knox for treatment and was then released. Twelve stitches were required to close the wound.

Charles Kelch, Jr., also of Mokena, suffered a severe cut on a foot while swimming at the same lake Sunday.

Orland Police To Crack Down On Speeders

Orland Park police have been ordered to crack down on hot rodders, speeders, care less drivers and those motorists who have failed to buy or display their village vehicle tags.

At the meeting of the village board Monday night complaints were voiced relative to cowboy tactics by some drivers and the police were instructed to watch for this and arrest such offenders.

There have been complaints that a number of motorists have been traveling too fast on village streets. Tomorrow night Justice of the Peace Roy Benson is scheduled to hear a case in which several charges are filed against the defendant, Robert Hart about 18, of Orland Park. Hart is charged with resisting arrest, driving too fast for conditions and driving a car without a license. He will be defended in court by Attorney Leland Rayson, of Tinley Park. A large number of witnesses is scheduled to be called.

Relative to the purchase of vehicle tags, village board members told of getting reports to the effect that a number of citizens are boasting that they have not bought stickers while others are credited with saying that while they had the things they did not intend to display them. The ordinance requires that not only must stickers be purchased but displayed. Police were advised to issue tickets for all Orland Park owned cars that do not show village stickers.

SANDBURG HIGH

Meier for the beginning of With the unusually heavy building activity in Orland township, it is expected that the high school enrollment will gradually climb during the 1959-60 school term. There are adequate facilities to handle the expected enrollment this fall with no crowding.

There is now under construction an addition that will increase the capacity of the school to 2,000 students. Work on this project is scheduled for completion prior to September of 1960 to accommodate the increased enrollment expected then when the first post-war births begin to reach high school. The Carl Sandburg high school board of education has completed negotiations with Cleveland W. Hollstein for the purchase of a 40 acre site on 171st street, east of 94th avenue for a future high school site, but final papers have not been signed. The board of education still has a 40 acre site at 111th st. and Roberts road.

It is anticipated as the population of the district increases that the enrollment of children in high school will reach the 6,000 mark in the early 1970's. At this time it is expected that in addition to the present high school on U.S. 45 that there will be a high school on 111th st. and Roberts rd. and one on 171st st. The growth of the district in the next three to five years will determine the location of the second high school.

Homewood Loses Move to Win Back Detached Acres

(CNS)—Homewood has lost a move to win back 80 acres disconnected from the village by court order this summer.

Judge Dan P. Pioletti, sitting in County court, denied Homewood's motion to vacate the disconnection order entered on July 2.

The land severed from Homewood was on the east side of the village and is bounded by 183rd and 187th streets, Morgan avenue, and Halsted street. It is owned by Best Homes, Inc.

Boating Has Made Truck Drivers Out of Passenger Car Pilots

The popularity of boating has made "truck drivers" out of many motorists who have purchased or rented trailers to pull their craft behind their passenger cars.

The Legal department of the Chicago Motor Club points out that as the operators of such trailers, motorists become subject to many unfamiliar licensing, identification, and operating regulations.

Under Illinois law, such trailers are "vehicles of the second division", and they are subject to registration fees based on their gross weight, including the vehicle and its maximum load. As "vehicles of the second division," their operators become subject to a number of requirements which do not apply to drivers of passenger cars alone. The motor club says these special requirements include:

The trailer must be inspected semi-annually for its safety factors, just as a truck is inspected.

The registration card for the trailer must be carried at all times.

Speed is more strictly limited. While a passenger car may be operated at 65 miles per hour outside of an urban district, the towing of even the lightest of trailers reduces the legal speed to 55 miles per hour; with a heavier trailer, where the total weight exceeds 8,000 pounds, the speed limit is 50 miles per hour.

Special rules for trucks must be obeyed, such as following designated "truck routes" and not operating on streets reserved for passenger cars only.

The trailer must be marked with the owner's name and address and the vehicle's empty weight, in lettering at least two inches high and one half inch wide, on both sides of the vehicle. This information may be painted on the frame of the trailer, or shown on plates attached to both sides of the trailer.

DENTAL HEALTH

The Causes of Gum Disease
Serious damage can be done to the gums and bony tooth sockets by irritation.

The chief source of irritation is calculus popularly known as tartar.

Calculus is a lime salt derived from saliva and other mouth secretions. It is soft and gelatinous for a time and clings readily to rough surfaces. Within a few hours, however, it hardens into a stone-like mass and cannot be brushed away. A dentist's metal instruments are required to remove it.

The calculus, once hardened begins to pile up along the neck of the teeth at the gum margin. Like a sliver in a finger, it sets up a local irritation. Blood begins to stagnate, leading to inflammation and gingivitis. This permits additional accumulation of calculus and more irritation, setting up a vicious cycle.

Dentists have found other causes for breakdown of gums and other tooth supporting tissues.

Malocclusion, or irregular alignment of teeth, can be a factor. Teeth that do not come together properly increase the tendency of food and bacteria to accumulate at the gum line.

Another cause is the failure of opposing teeth to touch, which is a form of malocclusion. Just as a paralyzed leg withers from lack of use, so does a tooth and its supporting structure degenerates from lack of function.

Some investigators have suggested that there is more gum breakdown, known as periodontal disease, in smokers than in non smokers.

Drying out of the linings of the mouth through mouth breathing is one of the more commonly overlooked irritants.

Besides the local irritating factors, many dentists believe that general bodily health has much to do with gum breakdown.

Gums, like any tissue of the body, are susceptible to general disturbances, such as nutritional deficiency. An upset in hormonal balance in the body may also be a contributing factor.

However, the claim that anxiety, worry and nervousness influence periodontal disease has not yet been substantiated (Next week: Treatment of Gum Diseases.)

A NEW FLY

A new fly, called the "face fly," is pestering both dairy and beef cattle for the first time in Illinois this summer. Face flies are persistent and greatly annoy cattle, even though they do not suck blood, observes Steve Moore, extension entomologist with the University of Illinois College of Agriculture and Illinois Natural History Survey.

These items of business were handled at the last Mission meeting.

Devotions were given by Mrs. Dick Swisher, and the Bible study on 5th chapter of Ephesians was conducted by Mrs. Robert Raines.

Tinley Garden Club Has Picnic At Braidwood

The Tinley Park Garden club members enjoyed a wonderful day last Thursday, at Braidwood, as guests of Mrs. Ava Funk. Four cars left Tinley at 9:30 a. m.

It was a lovely place to hold a picnic, with 37 lakes, and 750 acres of ground. Mrs. Ava Funk fixed a fire and roasted potatoes and ears of sweet corn wrapped in foil.

Some of the members went for a swim before eating. A sumptuous meal of chicken, potatoes, sweet corn and red and yellow sliced tomatoes was served. Later the food was cleared away, and the group enjoyed swimming until 4 p. m. The beach is very clean, and the children in the group had an extremely good time, while the members sat under the trees by the water, where it was pleasant and cool.

Mrs. Paul Wilkens was a guest of Mrs. Elwood Klepper. Mrs. Walter Zawadzki was accompanied by her daughter Diane. Mrs. John Werth had her grandson, Timothy Hallahan, and nephew, Jimmy Lehmann, with her and Mrs. Panazzo brought her son Johnny.

To complete the afternoon Mrs. Zawadzki and Mrs. Ava Funk drove the group around the Park, so that they might see the many interesting sights.

O. P.- Wins Police Loop Title

Parkers Rally in Final Inning To Take Summit in Play-Off, 4-2

The Orland Park Police league team won the championship Saturday by defeating Summit 4 to 2 in a tightly played game at the losers' park.

Orland was trailing 2 to 1 when it entered the seventh and final inning and with some timely hitting and a bit of luck the boys piled up three runs after two were out and then dug in and held Summit scoreless in their half of the inning.

Summit drew first blood, scoring a run in the first inning when the first two batters, Urban and A. Arredia, walked. Heim, who alternated chores at center field and at second base, drilled a hit into center field that scored Urban but Arredia was nailed at the plate on a relay from Chatosh to Erickson, then playing first, to Haehelein the catcher.

Schultz, who was on the mound for Orland, shut off the Summits then. Schultz stayed on until the fifth when he tired because of the heat. He was replaced by Erickson.

During his stint Schultz gave up seven hits and two runs. Summit's second run came in the third. Arredia started the inning by striking out. Heim singled to right field. Vensen singled to left and Heim stopped at second. Houba lifted a Texas leaguer over second. Gorney, the Orland shortstop, raced over and grabbing the ball on the first bounce threw Vensen out at second but in the meantime Heim scored. Vanicki struck out to end the inning.

Orland scored its first run in the fifth. Erickson was first up and grounded out, pitcher to first. Gorney was hit by a pitched ball, stole second, and scored on Berry's single to right center. Bendetto fanned and Neal grounded out. Arredia, pitching for Summit, was replaced in the fifth by Heim.

The final inning began with Orland trailing 2 to 1 and things looked bad. Haehelein opened the inning by striking out and Erickson grounded out. Then Gorney singled sharply down the right field line. Berry slapped a drive between first and second, behind the runner, and Gorney went to third. Bendetto worked Heim for a walk and the last ball squirted away from Killian, the Summit catcher. Gorney came with a head-first dive that beat Killian's throw to Heim, who had run to the plate to cover. Berry and Bendetto advanced to 3rd and 2nd.

With the score tied Matvich was called in to relieve Heim but the latter stayed in the game. Neal promptly doubled, scoring the two runners to send Orland out in front 4 to 2. Yunker struck out to end the Orland half of the inning.

This was Summit's last chance. Erickson got Killian to fly to center. Urban tapped to the mound and Erickson tossed to first for the second out. Arredia singled to right and Heim smashed one at Neal who threw high to 1st and both runners were safe. Platovich was sent in to bat for Matovich and hit a short fly to right field. Yunker raced back and made a back-hand catch to retire the side and end the game, bringing the championship to Orland Park.

Browsing Through The Cold Stove League

By DEAN DALLAS, Sports Editor

Football is more than around the corner. It is here. In just one more week the high schools will swing into action. In fact, Aug. 31 is the first day of actual practice allowed the Illinois High Association.

Next Thursday we will begin our series on the prospectus of the three football teams in our area.

Homewood-Flossmoor should make a respectable showing in its first year in the SWS. The students have come from a school that can produce three or is it four straight track championships, but cannot boast much else--Bloom.

Bloom has not been in the bleachers when it comes to football by any means. In fact, they played very well last year. So the new coach at Homewood should not find it too difficult to meet and give battle to the likes of Rich and Bremen, SWS.

Dennis Tattum will soon leave for Purdue and begin his quest for a berth on the frosh squad at this big ten school. Denny looks fit for the struggle which is certain to take place.

Tattum has the physical equipment and, we think, the mental attitude to finish in front of all comers for the fullback position at Purdue.

Tony Bettenhausen will be getting ready for the fall 100-mile events which will take him out west.

Tony has more than proved his driving ability by piloting some stock cars to victory. He has found this type of racing much to his liking.

"Family Clinic" on Football Set Up For Sept. 3 at Sandburg High

Should my son play football? The answer to this question will be given if you attend the first Family Football Clinic at Carl Sandburg high school, 133rd and LaGrange rd., Thursday, Sept. 3, at 6:15 p.m.

Altho your boy may not be out for football, practice sessions begin Aug. 31, parents with boys either presently in high school or of upper grade school age should find the evening profitable.

The evening's activities will include an explanation of the basic football drills and formations. The uniform and the conditioning will also be explained.

There will be ample opportunity for questions to be answered by members of the football coaching staff and administration, it was stated by those in charge.

To complete the clinic, a tour of the facilities will be taken followed by the serving of light refreshments.

This will also be an opportunity to become acquainted with the football coaching staff, particularly with two new members of the staff.

Bob Tattersall Favorite to Cop Midget Feature

Bob Tattersall, an expert at long distances, will be the driver to beat Saturday night in the season's fourth 50 lap feature in the midget auto races at Joliet Memorial Stadium.

The Streater speedster, who practically has clinched his second straight track championship, has won all three previous 50 lap events. And he owns two victories at 25 laps for a substantial lead in the track point standings.

However, newcomer Danny Kladis of Chicago has challenged Tattersall with a late season victory surge. Kladis, with four 25 lap triumphs, was just a short distance behind Tattersall last week.

After this Saturday's extra-distance event, there will be one more 50 lap feature before the racing season closes in late September.

Among the other drivers in contention Saturday night will be Tony Lenti of Chicago, Byron Fisher of Lemont, Billy Woods of Kenosha, Wisc., Bernie Wilhelm of Joliet, and Bob Hauck of Joliet, all previous feature race winners. A field of about 45 cars is expected.

Besides the 50 lap feature, there will be four heat races, a handicap and 15 lap semi-feature. Time trials start at 7:30 p.m. and the first race at 8:30 p.m.

Pony All-Stars Play Coaches at Tinley Saturday

The coaches and managers of boys' baseball teams in Tinley Park will have to look to their laurels when they play an all-star Pony league team, Saturday. The boys are out to avenge an 8-7 defeat at the hands of the oldsters, in an exhibition game played last Wednesday night on the Memorial park ball diamond.

It is hoped there will be a large turnout of baseball fans to see what promises to be an exciting and thrilling game. Starting time is 1 p.m., at Memorial park in Tinley Park.

A voluntary collection will be taken from the audience, which will be turned over to the Tinley Park library fund.

Up to press time, the roster was not available on the adult team, or it is being kept a dark secret. The all-star Pony league team is composed of the following boys: Tom Propp, John Punis, Donald Titus, Charles Powers, Ronald Rodger, Bruce Rodger, Vernon Sloan, Jim Casey and Melvin Wille.

Cutting Horse Group to Stage Show on Sunday

The Northern Illinois Cutting Horse association is to hold its annual horse show at Don Gerdel's "Lone Pine Ranch" this Sunday, Aug. 30.

Gerdel's place is east of Mokena on 187th street, half a mile west of U.S. 45.

This will be an all western show and a complete one, including all the various classes with events for the juniors as well as the seniors.

Of course, one of the highlights will be the work of the cutting horses. As the name implies these are the horses used in cutting a cow out of a bunch and putting it or holding it in a designated area.

Performance classes will begin at 12:30 p.m.

MIDGET MIDGET TRACK OPENS near Orland Park. Altho these young racers pictured here have been using the specially constructed track on 159th street, just east of U.S. 45, for several weeks, the oval was not formally opened until its dedication last Sunday. The program was scheduled originally for the previous Sunday, Aug. 15, but the affair was rained out. Each of the contestants Sunday received a trophy. The track, known as Cooper Stadium, is known as the home of the Illinois Junior Midget Association, and is on land donated by Kenneth Cooper. (Marvin Smith photo)

14 MOUTHS TO FEED so it is no wonder that the mother, a handsome Irish setter that belongs to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kuchenbecker, of 193rd street, Sunny Acres, feeds in shifts—seven pups at a time. The mother, Ginger of Sunny Acres, is a purebred, as is the father, Dugan, also owned by the Kuchenbeckers. It took her 30 hours to bring this many pups into the world with the aid of the daughter of the household, 15-year-old Judy. Ginger is two years old and this was her first litter. Both she and Judy are glad that the family didn't reach the maximum limit. The veterinarian had said that litters of Irish setters range from 5 to 25. The pups were born Aug. 11-12 and when this picture was taken last week-end most of them didn't have their eyes open but they are now so it will be easier for them to see how to get into mischief.

Roses Surrender to Industry

Twenty years ago the suburban Skokie Valley area in Cook county north of Chicago had an economy based on roses and radishes. In those days the Valley's pastoral landscape was dotted with truck farms and commercial greenhouses.

But World War II changed the picture, lending impetus to what has become one of the nation's most phenomenal examples of industrial growth.

Greenhouses and farmers have been replaced almost completely by light manufacturing plants and factory workers, and the Illinois Manufacturers' Association estimates industrial growth of the region since 1940 at 4000 per cent!

Skokie Valley's boundaries encompass eight thriving north suburban communities—Evanston, Glenview, Lincolnwood, Morton Grove, Niles, Northbrook, Northfield and Skokie.

In 1940 there were approximately 10 manufacturing plants in the entire area, and the population was less than 90,000.

Today manufacturing plants total 408, with 25 to 30 new plants being added each year, and the population has more than doubled to an estimated 190,000.

"Manufacturing employs 44,000 people, or more than 20 per cent of the Valley's residents, and pays 23 per cent of the area's total tax bills," says Gene Denning of Skokie, executive secretary of the Skokie Valley Industrial Association, a member of IMA's affiliate, the Illinois Industrial Council.

Skokie is the leading manufacturing community in the area with 165 plants. Others: Evanston (94 plants), Niles, (42), Morton Grove (36), Lincolnwood (31), Glenview (19), Northbrook (17) and Northfield (4).

Valley firms produce hundreds of items of durable and consumer goods including tool and die products, pharmaceuticals, duplicating machines, controls and regulators, electronic devices, automotive parts, valves, and heating and refrigeration specialties.

Roses and radishes still grow there, but mostly in the yards and gardens of the factory employees' homes.

Car Safe Place When Thunder Storm Strikes

Unless the rainfall that accompanies a summer electrical storm is so severe as to limit driver visibility, there is no need for a motorist caught driving in the midst of such a storm to stop his car, according to Matthew C. Sielski, director of the Chicago Motor Club's safety and traffic engineering department.

"Even if you are forced to pull over and wait the storm out, one of the safest places to be is right in your car," he pointed out.

Sielski said that since rubber tires insulate a car and keep the current from becoming grounded, there is little danger er that lightning can harm the passengers. "Of course, if there is a sturdy building nearby, it is much better to seek shelter there," he said.

If you do decide to pull over and wait out the storm in your car, Sielski offered the following safety tips:

Don't park under a tree or pole which, if struck by lightning, may fall on top of the car.

Try, if possible, to avoid parking under overhead power lines strung along the roadside. During severe storms many of these wires are downed.

Park on high land where water won't accumulate.

Also you are safe when you remain in your car, it is impossible to tell whether a downed wire is "live" or "dead". To be on the safe side simply sit tight and wait, but avoid touching any metal parts inside the car.

Experiment Field Tour Scheduled For September 4

The Joliet and Elwood Experiment Field tour will be held Sept. 4. The Joliet Field, located on U. S. 30, midway between Joliet and Plainfield, will be toured from 10 to 11:30 a.m. The Elwood Field, located on U. S. 66A, one mile south of Elwood, will be toured at 1 p.m.

Some of the things seen will be liquid and dry fertilizer comparisons, weed control experiments on corn and soybeans, and the different phosphate carriers, corn row spacing, sludge experiments, terrace demonstrations, phosphorus study on soybeans, and the run off and minimum tillage studies.

If you have any weeds that you would like identified, please bring them along to the meeting.

The date of Sept. 4 is the same date as Cattle Feeders Day at the University. Fred Francis of Wilmington has agreed to attend Cattle Feeders Day and bring back the story to Will County at the Outlook Meeting, scheduled for 8 p.m. September 18, at New Lenox Lion's Den.

Lions to Hold District Meet September 27

Plans for an annual Illinois Lions District 1-B convention in Morris Community High school on Sunday, Sept. 27 are nearing completion under the direction of Chas. (Pete) Muffler, immediate past president of the district and an International Counselor of the Lions. His co-chairman is James Davis.

The Lions clubs of Mokena, Frankfort and New Lenox belong to this district and all will be represented at the Morris conclave.

The Morris Lions club will be host to the visiting Lions of the district with assistance from other Lions clubs in the county. Mayor Donald Caisley will give the welcome.

Registrations will start in the high school at 11 a.m. and will continue until 1:30 p.m. The regular forum discussion will start in the school at 2 p.m. for presidents, vice presidents, secretaries, treasurers, public relations chairmen and other committee chairmen.

At 6:30 p.m. a buffet banquet dinner will be served for which reservations must be made with Walter Hundt, ticket chairman, by Sept. 21. Ten tickets are being mailed to each club in the district.

As an added attraction for entertainment of the visiting Lions and the public it is possible there will be a parade to include bands, floats, and marching delegations at 12:30 p.m., Muffler said. Herman Johnson has been appointed parade chairman.

Among the honored guests who have already accepted invitations to attend the convention are "Dick" Kenney, representing the Hadley School for the blind, and who returned from a convention recently in Rome; Paul Knowles of the Leader Dog School; Bill Richardson, new director to Lions International from Illinois; Melvin Jones, founder of Lions International; and H. Freiberg, state secretary.

For the first time in the history of district conventions there will be a memorial service for Lions who have died during the year. It will be directed by George Janesse, of Springfield.

Will Re-advertise For Bids on Two Village Projects

Because of some confusion as to the correct procedure in advertising for bids by a municipality, recent bids published by the Village of Tinley Park will have to be republished.

The action was taken by trustees at Monday's meeting after lengthy discussion, which revealed that detailed specifications were not available to bidders and an agreement had not been prepared.

As a result, a meeting was set up for Sept. 5, to be attended by the board of trustees, village attorney and engineer, to clarify bidding procedures.

In the meantime, the public ways committee was authorized to obtain specifications on the projects and re-advertise for bids immediately.

The bids in question cover repair of streets and water improvements.

Records show that cooler-than average temperatures during July and early August help to produce high corn and soybean yields. Above average rainfall during the first half of August increases corn yields but slightly reduces soybean yields. From mid August to mid-September, above average rainfall increases soybean yields but decreases corn yields.

Cook Co. Ass't Farm Advisor
After all the leftovers of the South Cook 4-H Fair were cleaned up, everyone seemed to feel that it was successful. Of particular importance this year was the fact that the exhibits were inside. The small amount of rain that fell Saturday afternoon would have worked a real hardship on an outdoor arrangement.

On behalf of the South Cook 4-H Fair Association board, and the 4-H club members, I would like to thank all those who contributed time, effort, money and merchandise. All of you played a big part in making the fair successful.

Also, congratulations to Darrell Erickson of the Orland 4-H club and Anita Wettzel of the Clover 4-H club, on being selected king and queen of this year's fair. Congratulations also to the winners of grand championship awards and a large pat on the back to all the 4-H exhibitors. The exhibits were of high quality and the conduct of the 4-H members was very much in keeping with the high standards of 4-H club work.

Prices received by U.S. farmers were about 2.6 times as high in July, 1959 as they were 20 years ago; however, prices of commodities that farmers buy have increased almost as much as prices of the products they sell.

Average prices of equipment and supplies is about 2.2 times as high as they were before the war. Average prices of things that farm people buy for family use are about 2.4 times as high as prices of 20 years ago.

School youngsters in suburban Cook county consume more milk in school milk programs than do youngsters in the city of Chicago. The rate in suburban schools is 31 quarts and in city schools, 22 quarts per year. There are approximately the same number of children in school in the suburbs as there are in the city. The difference of 9 quarts in annual consumption amounts to roughly seven million pounds of milk used in suburban schools.

In 1959, for the first time, the government's soybean price support program includes premiums for clean soybeans. Soybeans containing 1% or less of foreign material at time of delivery to the CCC will get a premium of 2c a bushel.

By the same token soybeans with more than 2% of foreign materials will be discounted.

In the past no premiums were paid for clean soybeans, and dirty beans were not actually penalized. The quantity of soybeans was reduced by the estimated weight of foreign material in excess of two percent.

Truss designs for spans up to 40 feet are available from the University of Illinois.

These trusses, which use splitting timber connectors or glue, are easy to build. For economy and adaptability, make your new farm buildings "clear-span" structures.

Plates assigned and sent to press for commemorative stamps released recently include the 7 cent Hawaii Statehood commemorative air mail, first placed on sale in Honolulu, Hawaii, Friday, Aug. 21, and the 4-cent Soil Conservation adhesive released at Rapid City, South Dakota, Aug. 26.

Also, the 10 cent Pan American Games commemorative air mail, issued today Aug. 27 at Chicago, and the 4-cent Petroleum Industry commemorative which also made its appearance today, at Titusville, Pennsylvania.

The Hawaii Statehood commemorative air mail was printed from plates 26432, 26433, 26434 and 2635. These were the only plate numbers assigned for this stamp. The 4-cent Petroleum Industry commemorative was printed from plates 26416, 26417, 26419 and 26431. Plate 26418 was assigned, but was canceled July 28, 1959, with no impressions having been made.

In the case of the Pan American Games 10 cent air mail plates 26413 and 26414 were sent to press July 14, 1959. Plates 26420 and 26428 were also assigned, with 26420 being canceled July 15 with no impressions. The master plate reported July 25, 1959, was No. 26398.

Printing of the 4-cent Soil Conservation stamp during July was from plates 26406 and 26407. Other plates assigned, but not as yet reported sent to press, were 26410, 26415, 26423 and 26425. The master plate, previously reported, was 26387.

Plate 26351, for the 49 star American Flag commemorative stamp was canceled July 6, 1959, with no impressions having been run off. Other plates canceled last month involved the 7 cent air mail, and the 3 and 4 cent regular postage issues.

A temporary postal station has been authorized in conjunction with the 73rd annual convention of the American Philatelic Society and the "SESCAL" exhibition at the Statler Hilton Hotel, Los Angeles, Calif., Sept. 9-13 1959. A special postmark will be provided, reading "American Philatelic Society Convention Station, Los Angeles, Cal." abbreviated as may be necessary.

The post office department on Aug. 14, announced that the 2½ cent Bunker Hill regular postage stamp, in coil form, would be first placed on sale in Los Angeles, on Sept. 9, in conjunction with this event.

Collectors have been cautioned that provision must be made for two of these stamps, to meet the 4-cent first class rate. Addressed envelopes and cash or money order remittance for the stamps to be affixed, may be sent to the Postmaster, Los Angeles 52, Calif.

San Francisco, California has joined the list of cities using the special cancellation advertising the Nuclear Ship Savannah, first atomic liner. This cancel will be in use Sept. 1 thru December 31, 1959.

From October 12 thru 19, New York, New York will utilize three slogan cancellations reading "New York Philharmonic Homecoming Week October 12 to 19, 1959."

Plan Study of Advanced Type Power Reactor

A joint study to explore the feasibility of an advanced type of nuclear power reactor is to be undertaken by Nuclear Power Group in cooperation with Atomics International, a division of North American Aviation, Inc.

The study will be concerned with the possibilities of the graphite moderated, water cooled, boiling and superheating reactor concept for power generation, according to the announcement made by Nuclear Power Group.

"Preliminary studies made by NPG engineers during the past ten months," it said, "have proved sufficiently promising to warrant further study in cooperation with a manufacturer in the nuclear field to determine if the concept is worth carrying into the research and experimental stages."

"There is no plan at this time to build such a reactor. The cost of the study is estimated at about $150,000. NPG and Atomics International will each bear the cost of the work they do."

NPG is a research organization formed by Commonwealth Edison Company, American Electric Power Service Corporation, Bechtel Corporation, Central Illinois Light Company, Illinois Power Company, Kansas City Power and Light Company, Pacific Gas and Electric Company and Union Electric Company. Headquarters are maintained in Chicago.

The reactor concept to be studied would use graphite blocks as a moderator and uranium as fuel. The reactor would consist of a large pile of graphite blocks in which holes are pierced for insertion of the fuel elements.

Other holes in the graphite blocks would contain metal tubes in which the water boils and the steam is superheated.

One advantage of this concept would be the production of steam at modern high pressures and temperatures. Another is that there would be no limitation on the size of such a reactor and refueling could be done while the plant was in operation.

NPG, which was formed six years ago, is a co-sponsor of the Dresden Nuclear Power Station, the 180,000 kilowatt boiling water atomic power plant now nearing completion 50 miles southwest of Chicago.

Atomics International has been doing research and construction work on atomic reactors for over 10 years. It has headquarters at Canoga Park, Calif.

Per capita consumption of butter in 1958 was 8.4 pounds, the same as in 1957, says the National Dairy Council in its recent issue of "How Americans Use Their Dairy Foods", its annual statistical publication. The postwar decline in butter consumption has leveled off, NDC notes.

Coal Oil Lamps Revive Memories

By JOHN W. ALLEN
So. Illinois University

A village in the West Indies where I vacationed recently had no electric street lighting system. Nevertheless, it has gone modern by distributing a few handfuls of Coleman gasoline lanterns, U.S. made. These are filled, pumped to proper pressure, and hung at strategic points by a lamp-lighter who comes merrily whistling along the street at dusk each evening. He is much like the lamp tender that some of our villages once knew. Early the next morning he returns to collect the lamps, which are generally burned out. Residences are lighted, when they are lighted, by old fashioned "coal oil" lamps.

The distinctive pale yellowish glow seen in windows where kerosene lamps are burning revives memories of times when such lamps were universally used to light rural homes in Illinois. Presently one may drive many miles along our country roads without even seeing a window reflecting the soft glow peculiar to the kerosene lamp. Many who once knew no other light forget that there are millions in the world today who still use kerosene lamps and lanterns.

Thinking backward, it seems that a great proportion of all family life before 1900 was centered about the kerosene lamp, or around candles or grease lamps which were put into use if the kerosene can or jug became emptied before the weekly or biweekly trip to town. Sometimes in anticipation of such an emergency, one of the children would be sent before nightfall to "borrow a bottle of coal oil." Some used resinous splinters of pine, pine knots or tallow saturated pithy plant stems to supply a type of lighting which could hardly be considered diffused. Supper, never then known as dinner, was prepared in the light of a kerosene lamp resting upon the dining table or upon a conveniently located wall shelf. When the meal was ready the lamp was placed in its accustomed position, which proclaimed about as effectively as the words had been shouted, that "supper's ready."

After the meal had been eaten and the dishes washed, members of the family arranged themselves around the same or another lamp to suit individual purposes. Some sat near it to read or perhaps to write a letter. Others, not requiring so much light, would sit farther away and play at checkers, or at fox and geese, hully-gull or other forgotten games.

Then, of course, there always was the rocker where the mother sat to make or to mend the family clothing.

Sometimes this was done after supper because it was the only spare time the mother had. Occasionally, it was because the children could then best spare the clothes for mending. At other times the mother and older girls would piece quilts or knit. Since a skilled knitter could do almost any part of the task except turning a heel or drawing in a toe without looking, little light was required. Activity within the lighted circle was common.

Whatever activities may have taken place in the lighted circle there always was time and opportunity to talk. Incidents of the day were discussed, family history and traditions were recounted, and stories told. Songs sometimes were sung, riddles and puzzles offered, and assorted lore passed along. When neighbors, often carrying a lantern, came to "set until bedtime" the program of the evening was enlarged. When bedtime came at the regular hour or belatedly, lamps were turned down and blown out.

When morning came the lamp was once more lighted for the preparation of the very substantial breakfast. After the breakfast dishes were washed, the lamp chimneys were carefully cleaned, and polished. Oil was added to the lamps as needed and wicks were trimmed with care so as not to clog the air vent.

The kerosene lamp was almost an institution. Perhaps someone will write a book sometime entitled "The Influence of the Kerosene Lamp on Family Life in America."

A New Seat at the Table?

U. S. Capital Goes Abroad to Get Cheaper Labor, Mason Warns

By CONG. N. M. MASON
The "U. S. News & World Report"—after a careful and extensive survey—states the following facts:

1. That a $27 billion investment has been made in industries abroad by American businessmen during the last 15 years. This has created 1,000,000 jobs for workers abroad whose wages on an average are about one fourth the average wage of an American worker.

2. That three thousand American companies produced last year in their foreign factories $30 billion worth of products to compete with American produced goods in World markets and in our American market. The same modern machinery is used in factories abroad today as is used here—the only difference is in labor costs.

3. That American manufacturers have two reasons for setting up factories abroad, namely:

(a) To overcome the wage differential between U. S. labor and foreign labor.

(b) To overcome tariff barriers and import quotas that are set up between countries. (During the past 24 years under the Reciprocal Trade Agreements we have removed most of our trade barriers.)

4. That automobiles, farm machinery, office typewriters, tires, adding machines, cotton goods; yes, and even prepared food products—such as Heinz pickles—are now made abroad at about one half the cost of the same products made in the United States.

Is it any wonder we are losing our World markets and being undersold even in our own markets?

A demonstration was given by Ronald Manze on "How to make lawn decorations." Melvin Wille gave a talk on Home Gardens.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Art Bettenhausen.

Heat, Humidity Fine for Corn; See Big Crop

Ten inch rains hit again in the South Central Corn Belt striking Southern Illinois around August 17, creating flood conditions similar to those experienced in Southwestern and Southeastern Iowa earlier in August. In general, elsewhere, high humidity, high temperatures and substantial rain pushed corn crops on to an earlier maturity and bumper yields. Ideal conditions were reported from areas as widely separated as Northeast Nebraska, Southern Wisconsin and Eastern Pennsylvania. Even in East Central Illinois near Champaign, where there was an early summer drought, yield decrease is now estimated at only 10% with a predicted county average of 63 bushels.

At this time of year, certain questions arise concerning the corn crop due to seasonal conditions. Two are particularly prominent in certain areas this year and may be readily observed by an observation of corn fields while they are still green.

The corn leaf aphid is present in much greater numbers than usual. This small green "louse" has been reported from Ohio, Minnesota, Illinois and Indiana. This insect lives by sucking sap from the leaves. It prefers a location on the tassel and upper leaves, particularly liking those tassels where close growing leaves afford protection from wind and sun. When present in large numbers, it hinders the shedding of pollen and the emergence of silks, resulting in barren plants. By the time the barrenness is noticed, the aphids are gone. But their former presence can be detected by looking at the tassel and upper leaves which will be somewhat gummy and blackened.

The presence of "suckers" or tillers on corn has been debated and discussed for years. Their development is favored by high natural fertility, heavy fertilization, plentiful moisture and low rates of planting. Suckering is an attempt by the plant to use all available fertility and moisture in producing maximum growth. Experiments have nearly always shown that removing these tillers decreases yield. The tiller may sometimes bear a normal ear or it may be earless. But these barren suckers may be distinguished from barren stalks by the fact that they are connected to the mother plant at the base. The sucker is also usually smaller and without brace roots.

Hard red winter wheat prices in downstate Illinois may not rise enough to pay storage costs. But soft red winter wheat is likely to gain on hard wheat and make further storage profitable, reports a University of Illinois grain marketing specialist.

Is that what the gentleman from Illinois was complaining about?

Mr. Mason: That is exactly what I am complaining about.

Mr. Bailey: I am glad to yield to the gentleman from Illinois.
Mr. Mason: For 22 years I have opposed the reciprocal trade agreements program. My first vote in this Chamber was a vote against the extension of the reciprocal trade agreements. There were only 13 votes in this Chamber against. That number has gradually grown until last year we had the votes to defeat any extension of it. The vote was delayed a month or 6 weeks until enough votes were corralled with certain promises of subsidies and restrictions on imports, until they were able to put it across by some 40 or 50 votes. Now those Members of this Chamber who permitted themselves to be hoodwinked by promises are sweating today because of the effect of the reciprocal trade agreements that we extended a year ago.

Police Chief Alerts Motorists to Watch Out for School Children

With schools opening soon in the area, Police Chief Harold C. Moore today appealed to motorists to be particularly watchful for children going to and from school.

Chief Moore said Tinley Park drivers must be especially watchful, not only near school buildings, but along the routes taken by children before and after school and at home.

"Children frequently dart out in the street on their way to school and some youngsters, especially the smaller ones, may have not been taught about the extra caution needed on the way to and from school," Chief Moore said.

He suggested that parents walk the route to school with their small children, pointing out all possible dangers from traffic.

"School administrators do a fine job instructing pupils about traffic rules and regulations, but during the first few days of school, parents must accept responsibility for teaching their children the rules of safe walking and bicycle safety until safety courses in the schools can be completed," Chief Moore said.

"Parents also must teach their children to respect and obey all traffic rules. This can best be accomplished by personal example," the Chief advised.

California several weeks ago and motored home with them.

Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Jochum and daughters spent an inspirational week at Conference Point youth camp, Wis., a Methodist youth camp. Sharon and Loreley were campers and Ruth and Percy were house parents.

The George L. Freed family of Oleander ave. entertained as dinner guests Friday evening, Mrs. So Hong Park and Mrs. Oak Soon Hong. The latter is the director of Child Placement Service of Seoul, Korea. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. William Schroeder and family of Tinley Park. The two distinguished guests have as one of their pleasant duties, the privilege of visiting the homes into which they have placed Korean children.

Visiting the Suburban Men's annual garden and flower show in Hinsdale on Saturday were Mesdames Zawadzki, Panozzo, Hughes and Hug. These ladies also visited the neighboring community of Clarendon Hills where an annual flower show was being held. In spite of intense heat, they report the flowers and vegetables were holding up very well.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Johnson and children Nancy and Dick, returned home Aug. 19th after spending two weeks vacationing in the east. While in Ossing, N. Y. they were guests of Mrs. Johnson's sister, Mr. and Mrs. James Molney. Among other places they visited were Niagara Falls and Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Powers and children, Emmett Jr., Linda, Kathy and Mark, returned Sunday, after spending a week at a summer resort in Woodruff, Wis.

Friends and relatives of Tom Schutz, and Earl Goodson, gave a birthday party at Valley View Farms for them Aug. 20. Swimming and a Bar-B-Q were features of the evening.

In the "Miss Pan Am of Harborland" contest, being held by the Calumet Park Kiwanis club, Miss Patricia GeDovin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen GeDovin, 17905 So. Oak Park ave, won 4th prize out of 25 finalists. The girls were chosen for charm and personality.

Mr. and Mrs. William Darby returned Aug. 18 from a weeks vacation with their son, Wm. M. Darby Jr., in Norfolk, Va. who is serving with the U. S. Navy on board the air craft carrier the U.S.S. Independence. While there they toured the entire ship. On their return they came via the Alleghany and Blue Ridge Mts. of Virginia. While in the mountains they were caught in a severe electric storm, and report it was quite an experience.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Ferraro have returned from an extensive trip covering 8123 miles. They left here July 24 touring thru Wisconsin, Minnesota, Montana, Canada and on to Fairbanks and Anchorage, Alaska. On the return trip they came via Washington, South and North Dakota. Among the interesting sights they enjoyed most, was the Grand Coulee Dam in Washington. They found it a marvelous sight with water pouring over 22 billions tons of concrete. Gasoline was considerable higher through Canada and Alaska, selling for 65 to 75 cents per gallon, they state.

Word has been received from Mr. and Mrs. Vern Puffer, former residents who are now residing in New Port Richey, Fla., about 40 miles north of St. Petersburg, where they opened a new trailer park, Aug. 9. It is called "Paradise Lane" and is for adult retired people only. For diversion, fishing is quite good and close by with sandy beach, and another larger beach is in the making. Don't Become a Statistic!

A week from tomorrow night the three-day Labor Day will begin and municipal, county and state police join with the National Safety Council in urging motorists to take it easy.

The Labor Day week-end is always a bad one-safety-wise. The period marks the end of summer for many persons. Thousands will be on the highways returning from vacations. Thousands more will be taking a last trip to resorts and fishing spots before the opening of schools serve to curtail family junkets.

It all adds up to the fact that highways will be crowded and that a large portion of such transients will be impatient to reach their destinations.

And so the foot on the throttle gets heavier. Stirred by the urge to hurry--hurry--hurry, drivers begin darting in and out of the lines of traffic. If successful they may gain a car length or so; if unsuccessful someone is certain to wind up in a hospital bed or a table in some undertaker's preparation room.

Too many persons who drive care are unable to judge distance or else they are without regard for the rights or lives of others and go charging down the wrong side of the road expecting everyone else to get out of their way.

And too many of such criminally inclined people become even more lethal by indulging in alcoholic beverages. If they would only kill themselves one could say good riddance but too often they escape and innocent drivers are the ones to suffer.

Figures compiled by the National Safety Council, various insurance firms, police departments and coroners show that speed is the number one cause of fatal highway accidents. Speed will continue to be the primary cause of crashes unless drivers learn to use less of it or the automobile makers reduce it. The odds are, however, that as long as high speeds are built into a car they will be utilized.

A few years ago the makers of one of the so-called low priced cars based its sales campaign on the safety features possessed by that year's model. Sales lagged. But business was booming with its bitterest rival whose salesmen were stressing how much horsepower it had and how fast it could travel. The first company then dropped its talk about safety and turned to speed. Sales began to mount.

This doesn't necessarily mean that people want to go out and get killed speeding but it does indicate that we are hooked with the hurry habit and that we are willing to take any risks in order to satisfy it.

If we motorists expect to live longer we must speed less, control our tempers and endeavor to use judgment and common sense.

If you intend to drive a distance Labor Day week-end start early enough so you don't have to rush, and get sleep and rest before taking to the road.

Do everything within your power to avoid becoming a statistic.

to them so they never had a chance. But this seal, now, he can, thru his actions, clearly show that he wants no part of the briny deep.

"To say that it is not natural for a seal not to like water doesn't throw the case out of court, so to speak.

"There are many strange things on this earth and the main reason they are strange is because they are different. I have an Italian friend, for instance, who never eats spaghetti or drinks wine. Loathes both. Some people would try to argue that he isn't Italian.

"I know a woman who pays no attention to what other women are wearing and can sit in a strange room for a full 40 minutes without mentally changing the furniture around and redecorating the place.

There are also records," Jeff continued, "that show there are sailors who never think of girls.

"I also know a man who likes to drink martinis but he has never told anyone how to make them. And look at all those people in Texas who voted the Republican ticket and those birds in Maine who plumped for the Democrats.

"So I am quite ready to believe that this Seattle seal doesn't like water. And it wouldn't surprise me that if it turns out to be a lady seal that when it grows up it will want a cloth coat and carry an umbrella."

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir:

Your last week's account of progress in the planning of a sanitary sewer system for Tinley Park was most disheartening. Mention is made in your story of the proposed submittal of a revised Wilson Plan to the Sanitary District Engineers for their appraisal. Just what changes have been incorporated into this plan which now make it a more acceptable one than it was on May 2nd.

True enough, a meeting between Walter Wilson and the Citizens' Sewer committee was held, but this meeting ended on a note of frustration if not outright failure.

So much time was consumed by an irrational and irrelevant tirade on the subject of flooded basements that Wilson was to the point of throwing up his hands in disgust.

The author of the above-mentioned filibuster on a problem more closely associated with storm sewers than with sanitary sewers chose to go into his act again at the meeting following the one with Walter Wilson and once more was a distracting enough influence that this meeting also accomplished very little. So what has been accomplished?

The sum total for the activities of the Citizens Committee to date is two recommendations, one of which it seems is based on a statement attributed to officials of the Sanitary District which now is being repudiated by them.

Actually the crux of the entire difference of opinion on sanitary sewers in this village was never dealt with. What is this major point that has been so obviously ignored? SIZE. Size alone is the determining factor when it comes to cost.

In order to reduce the size (and thereby the cost) of the project, the estimate of the future population it will serve must be scaled down. This automatically reduces the perimeter of the area we feel we will ultimately be obliged to provide for. This reduction in the estimated number of future users and in the area we propose to service will allow for shallower excavation than was contemplated under the original Wilson plan. In a sanitary sewer project depth of excavation is the key to cost. If a major reduction in price is the desire of the majority of the citizens of Tinley Park, and this seems to be the case, then why has the Citizens Committee so completely ignored this most obvious point in their effort to come up with a revision in Wilson's plan?

If fear of vigorous debate is the answer then the Citizens committee has not avoided vigorous debate by choosing to ignore the possible necessity of its use. They have only postponed its appearance until the announcement of the next referendum on a Sanitary Sewer Plan, which if again is too comprehensive in scope will be fought as violently as was the one which went down to defeat on the 2nd of May.

There is still time. The Citizens Committee is to meet again.

Issues can be resolved by debate based on fact. One thing is certain. A "revised" sewer plan must NOT be presented that is only a slightly watered down version of one that not too long ago took a sound drubbing at the polls.

The future of the Sanitary Sewer Plan is STILL in the hands of the Citizens Committee. If we are to get sewers in the reasonably near future and avoid another bitter and

On Second Thot

By Glenn F. Logan

"I noticed" said Jeff Throtlebottom, as tacked successfully thru the office doorway and dropped anchor in his favorite chair, "that one of the dailies carried a story the other day that was played way back but for my money, deserved Page One, more than did the item dealing with Kruschew's itinerary, if and when he visits the United States, or the fact that the steel workers and the steel companies are still no nearer settlement of the strike than they were weeks ago."

Jeff paused to fill his pipe with my tobacco and pick up a couple of books of matches.

"This story," he resumed, "carried a Seattle dateline and dealt with a baby seal who didn't like the water. He followed a skin diver ashore out of Puget Sound and so of course has been named Scuba. Since that time he has been cared for by the Glen Bristow family of Bellevue.

"According to this story the only way the kids in this family can get him in the water is to throw him in and then he gets out as soon as he can clamber ashore. It has no fear of humans or even the Bristow dog but whereas the pooch bears his hunger in silence Scuba barks when he is hungry. The only thing this seal seems to be afraid of is water, which makes one wonder if perhaps its mother had been frightened by a Russian submarine.

"I do not have the money to spare," Jeff went on, "to make a personal check of this story and convince myself beyond all reasonable doubt that this seal does indeed dislike water.

"I have a number of acquaintances that have an aversion to the stuff but do not to the best of my knowledge-number any seals among them, young or old.

"If Teddy Roosevelt were alive," Jeff continued, "he would be hollering 'nature-faker,' no doubt, unless he had definite proof that this seal prefers a snug berth ashore rather than life in the briny.

"As I say, I have no personal knowledge that this seal has taken the pledge to never touch water but I do not find it impossible to believe.

"As a matter of fact, I think it is probably true. Just because water happens to be the natural habitat of fish, and seals and oysters, does not mean some of them aren't dissatisfied with their environment and would like a change.

"There may have been fish, oysters and scallops who have attempted to start life ashore but no one paid any attention

Civic Association Now Dissolved; Leaves High Achievement Record

By EVELYN VAN HORN
Sycamore 8-8921

On Monday, Aug. 17 the remaining members of the Civic association voted to dissolve the organization. It was felt that other organizations in the community have taken over many of the functions and services previously performed by them.

Originally, the Civic Association was organized as the Citizens Committee in April 1956 by the request of Richard Harding, president of the three-man board of directors. The objects of the organization were to aid the school board and to provide various services to the community and school district 160. As of April 1956, it was recognized that there would be many problems educational-wise and community-wise because of J. E. Merriam's proposed building plans.

Fourteen residents of School District 160 comprised the original Citizens Committee. By January 1957, the membership had risen to 25, due to new recruits from an influx of over 100 families in what is now Country Club Hills. By June 1958, the membership was 43. After that point, the membership gradually dwindled as many became interested in scouting, PTA, Teen club and other activities.

The movement was started for organization by the Citizens committee. Over 90 school district 160 residents have been members of the Citizens committee (Civic assn.), of these one third have gone into other fields of activity. Many of the present and past officials in Country Club Hills have been members. This is true also of many of the scouting and the teen group leaders.

Donald Swanson, if his status as an honorary member is included while serving on the school board last year, is the member with the longest tenure as he was in on the organization of the group originally.

Many and varied are the services which the Citizens committee (Civic assn.) have offered the community. The first year was essentially one of organization, yet traffic surveys were made to obtain speed and school bus signs. A welcome brochure for new residents was issued. Census data was obtained for two years and funds raised for the school board. Publicity for the change from a 3 man board of directors to a 7 man board of education was circulated. Meetings and information were offered on local governments and road annexation, University of Illinois site in the community, pros and cons on incorporation, voter registration, Moose safety signs, PTA formulation, scouts and cub scouts, teen-age club. These were for the 1957-1958 fiscal year.

In the 1958 - 59 fiscal year use of land at 179th and John for ball field and for track was arranged, more discussions and facts on the university site, candidates for U. S. Congress were presented, traffic surveys were instituted for Cicero ave., the possibility of a post office for Country Club Hills was investigated, and a movement to start a local paper for Country Club Hills was started.

The above lists only a few of the many activities investigated, formulated or begun by the committee.

In June 1958 the Citizens committee was divorced from further participation in school affairs. A new name, Civic Association of Country Club Hills, was adopted with a revised constitution.

It is regrettable that an organization of this type which has performed so many services for the community should dissolve. Yet, in retrospect, it has performed its function of getting things or organizations done or started for better community living. It existed for those purposes as there was no other organization available to do them. Congratulations are due for a job well done.

The pre-teen youth group sponsored by the Teen Club met Aug. 21 in Shaffner's garage, 4651 185th st. All boys and girls who will be in 6th, 7th, or 8th grade are invited to attend. The next meeting will be held Sept. 4 in Shaffner's garage from 7 to 9:30 p.m.

The Teen Club is planning an ice cream social to be held Saturday, Aug. 30 at Home-owners Park on Patrick avenue next to the firehouse from 1:00 to 4:00 p.m. Ice cream, cake, and pop will be on sale. The Teen Club has helped the community in many ways and the community now has a chance to show its gratitude by attending the social.

United Christian Church
The Youth Group of United Christian church is planning a splash party to be held in Raddatz's pool Thursday, Aug. 27 from 1:30 to 4 p.m. Refreshments will be served after the swim.

The groups of the Women's Christian Fellowship will begin their monthly meetings starting in September. The groups will meet on either the second Tuesday or second Wednesday as last year, Joanna on 2nd Wednesday morning, Esther second Tuesday evening and Naomi Wednesday evening. Hostesses for the first meetings have not yet been selected but members of the groups will be notified as to the home where the meeting will be held.

Leo Luebke filed an appeal for a variance with the board of appeals in regard to fencing around his permanent pool. Luebke was cited with a violation of a city ordinance and served with a summons to appear before Judge Deurinc Aug. 29.

Larry Simons, chairman of the board of appeals, explained that this appeal for a variance would be referred to the city council since under the ordinance the board of appeals would not have the authority to make a decision in this case.

Woman's Club
The Woman's Club will hold its first meeting for the term 1959 - 60 at the kindergarten building in the Thomas Lane schools at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 1st. A children's variety show will be the program for the evening. The meeting will start with the show followed by refreshments, then a business meeting will be held.

Any women now living in the community are invited to attend.

Lincoln-Way Adds New Courses to Program

Lincoln-Way high school will have a number of new courses in its program for the 1959-60 school year. Not all these are entirely new courses. Many of them represent changes in the course content because of the new developments within these areas during the past few years.

In the art department, a number of changes have been made in the advanced art program: Art II includes a semester of composition and a semester of oil painting, water color and casein painting; Art III includes six weeks in each of the following: lettering, silk screen and air brush; Art IV covers leather work and jewelry making with such articles as wire, copper enamel, and some lapidary work.

In the business department a new course is being offered in business English and letter writing which is of special interest to the business majors. This course is planned to help develop sureness and control in the use of words, primary business procedures, principles, and policies through the medium of writing the many kinds of messages that business requires, become familiar with simple business problems and gain an understanding of people by studying effective sentences, paragraphs, and whole messages, by writing them, and by testing their effect on others. Spelling will be stressed through the course. A few short speeches and reports will be assigned from time to time. Open only to seniors.

Shorthand II is being offered for the first time to the seniors who are planning a business career. Shorthand II reviews theory of shorthand. Much time will be devoted to increasing the students' speed and transcription rate. Correct usage of grammar, spelling, and punctuation will be stressed. Letters that students transcribe must be mailed. To get full credit, students must be able to take dictation at the rate of 90 words per minute for five minutes and transcribe their notes with 95% accuracy or better and be able to have available transcripts at the rate of 12 words per minute. Otherwise only one-half credit will be given. Dictation tapes are available for extra practices.

In the area of foreign languages French I has been added to the curriculum. French I consists of four areas — conversation, reading, writing and listening. Primary stress will be placed upon learning simple conversations which are used every day in French-speaking countries. Through translation the student will become familiar with French speaking countries, their people and customs. By writing he develops his ability to express himself in simple French and by listening he is enabled to understand simple spoken French.

Members of the language department have been visiting language laboratories in this section of the state during the summer months in preparation for the laboratory equipment which will be added to this area next year.

The mathematics program has undergone considerable revision with the major changes in the college prep math program. Algebra is still being taken by students who plan on a math major. During the sophomore year students who exhibit promise in the area of math are encouraged to embark on the college prep math program.

College Prep Math I is designed for those students who have shown exceptional ability in their study of mathematics or intend to pursue a vocation which requires a maximum knowledge in this field. This course will include all the topics as listed in the plan geometry section with the integration of selected subjects from space geometry. This course is open to those students who have completed Algebra I and whose mathematics ability is average or above as shown by a prognosis test and their past achievement in Algebra I.

College Prep Math II includes reviewing and extending the main topics of Algebra I. This course includes the study of powers and roots, logarithms, slide rule, variation, radicals, complex numbers, systems of quadratics, trigonometry of the right triangle, and an introduction to "Sets" and the "Structure of Algebra". During the second semester time will be spent on space geometry. This section will review and extend the space geometry covered in College Prep Math I and provide further experience in inductive and deductive reasoning. The content deals with lines, planes, solid figures including prisms, cylinders, pyramids, cones and spheres.

College Prep Math III includes college algebra which is offered one semester to be followed by trigonometry the second semester. College Algebra is a study of exponents, radicals, solution of equations, graphs of equations, ratio, proportion, variation, progressions, complex numbers, determinants, probability and infinite series.

Trigonometry is also a part of the Math III program and has wide application in engineering and is required for entrance to all engineering colleges. Trigonometry applies the similarity of right angles to the solution of distance problems. Logarithms, solution of right and oblique triangles, properties and graphs of trigonometric ratios, and topics from spherical trigonometry are studied.

In the music department the mixed chorus is new this year and will be a selected group made up from students of both the boys and girls glee clubs and will be doing advanced work. This is the second year of the advanced music seminary course which is a composite in music theory, harmony, history and appreciation designed to aid those students who want to continue their music education after high school. This course could also be taken as a special interest course for those students who would like additional work in the above areas. Prerequisite Junior or Senior standing and membership in the band or chorus or with special permission of the instructor.

In the social science department the advanced history seminar course is being offered for the first time. This course is designed to go into considerable more depth in U. S. History than the regular history program. This seminar will be primarily problem centered dealing with some of the major problems in the history of the United States. Considerable emphasis will be placed upon selected readings and reviews of the major works in U. S. History.

Also new this year are the courses in senior economics and psychology. Economics is designed to help students to better understanding the workings of the economic system of the United States. With the basic economic understandings in mind, a study will be made of the relationship of these economic principles to our modern socio-economic problems such as labor, housing and farming.

Psychology is concerned with helping seniors to better understanding themselves and others through a study of Psychology for Living. Topics included in the course are Your Personality Growth, Your Mental and Emotional Health, Your Physical Growth and Learning, Your Intelligence and Thinking, and Planning Your Career. Both Senior Economics and Psychology will be offered each semester.

*miles per gallon

one of 7 big bests Chevrolet gives you over any car in its field

Proof that Chevy delivers the most miles from a gallon comes from an indisputable source: this year's Mobilgas Economy Run. For a pair of Chevrolet sixes with Powerglide walked away with the first two places in their class — got top mileage, in fact, of any full-sized car. Over the Run's long, rugged course, over mountain and desert in the long, long haul from Los Angeles to Kansas City, the winning Chevrolet averaged a whopping 22.38 miles per gallon. That's the kind of economy-engineering that keeps you saving while you drive!

BEST STYLE—It's the only car of the leading low-priced 3 that's unmistakably modern in every line. "In its price class," says POPULAR SCI-ENCE magazine, "a new high in daring styling."

BEST BRAKES—In competitive tests of repeated stops from highway speeds, conducted by NASCAR, Chevy outstopped both of the "other two." Naturally—Chevy brakes with bonded linings are far larger, built to lengthen brake life by up to 66%.

BEST TRADE-IN—Look at the record—the used car prices in any N.A.D.A.† Guide Book. You'll find that Chevy used car prices last year averaged up to $128 higher than comparable models of the "other two."

BEST ENGINE—Chevrolet engines have long won expert praise and, just recently, Chevrolet received the NASCAR Outstanding Achievement award for "the creation and continuing development of America's most efficient V-type engines."

BEST ROOM—Official dimensions reported to A.M.A.‡ make this abundantly clear. Chevy front seat hip room, for instance, is as much as 5.9 inches wider than in comparable cars.

BEST RIDE—MOTOR TREND magazine names Chevy "... the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class." But this is one Chevy feature you really should discover for yourself, at your Chevrolet dealer's. Stop by soon!
